Inter-scholastic Soccer League	P	W	L	D	Pts
Kamehameha	1	1	0	0	2
High School	1	0	0	1	1
St. Louis	1	0	0	1	1
Mills	1	0	1	0	0

The second game of the Inter-scholastic Soccer League series was played yesterday afternoon, and ended with a victory for Kamehameha over Mills with a score of 3-0. The game, which was played at Kamehameha, was a hard fought one from beginning to end, and the Kams only succeeded in winning after a tough tussle which for a time looked as though it was going the Mills way. The speed and class with which both teams played shows that there is a fine soccer series ahead, and a great deal may be expected from these two teams as well as from the two that played Monday.

Kamehameha undoubtedly owes its victory to the speed with which the boys played, as well as to their splendid team work. Mills also showed good speed and team work, and with a little more practice much better results can be expected. For individual players on the Kam team, Kauhana, Correa and Kainali probably put up the best games, and were the three score makers for the Kams, each one succeeding in putting the leather into the net once. The last goal was made just three seconds before the game was called. On the Mills team Takiuchi and Watanabe both put up good games, and were well supported by the rest of the team.

The game was played in twenty-minute halves with ten minutes intermission, but it seems that twenty minutes is rather long for the halves as both teams were nearly all in when the game was finished.

The lineup was as follows:
Kamehameha: Goal, Kooni; forwards, Kauhana, Opanai, Correa, Mitchell, Kainali; backs, Napiha, Hush, Hipa, Akiona, Shipman.

Mills: Goal, Watanabe; forwards, Watanabe, Miyamoto, Koiing Sing Low, Muramura, Lee; backs, Loo San, Kim Gay Bong, Yoshiga, Ah Hoy, Takiuchi.

The next soccer game of the season is to be played on Friday, between Mills and the High School. The field has not yet been definitely chosen but will probably be at Moiliili.

PUMPED BLOOD INTO BABY.
New Method of Transfusion by Syringe Saves Life.

Dr. Thomas B. Cooley and Dr. J. Walter Vaughan of Detroit, have announced the successful transfusion of blood by a syringe, a new and revolutionary method which they adopted after ordinary methods failed. The case was that of a new born babe whose life was despaired of because of hemorrhage. Transfusion was the only possible means of saving it, and the first attempts failed.

As a last resort blood was drawn into a glass antitoxin syringe. Then, by the usual method of using these syringes, it was injected into a vein of the baby. The child revived, and now seems on the road to health.

IDLERS LOSE GAME
AFTER HURLING A
SWEEPING CHALLENGE

The basketball game between the two teams from the College of Hawaii was played yesterday afternoon the "Y" floor, and was won by the team who accepted the challenge, by a score of 7 to 6. The "Idlers," the challenging team, played a good game but they were slightly outclassed by the opposition. The line-up was as follows:

Idlers: Forwards, Starratt, Tracy; center, Clark; goals, Lemke, Barnhart. Second Team: Forwards, Stickney, Tulloch; center, Meinecke; guards, Cousen, Pratt.

START

The Punahou tennis tournament began yesterday and all the preliminaries were played off. The meet began at 3:30 and from then until nearly 6, the three courts were in constant use, many good games being played on each. Quite a number of students turned out to see the tournament and the courts presented a lively scene. The preliminaries have now been played off, and tomorrow the actual elimination work begins. This week is being devoted to singles, and as soon as they have been completed, the doubles will begin.

The winners yesterday were as follows: D. Wadsworth beat L. Holmes, 6-1, 6-2; R. Horne beat W. Inman, 6-2, 6-1; W. Coney beat P. Woods, 6-3, 6-2; J. O'Dowda beat J. Hind, 6-2, 6-3; J. Meinecke beat R. Von Tempisky, 7-5 and default; D. Baldwin beat A. Wadsworth, 6-2, 3-6, 7-5.

HIT OR MISS
SPORT

It is universally hoped that the authorities will cheat Al Palmer, the big German, out of a match with Jack Johnson in France. The fans are so sore at Johnson that they even expect contempt and laughing for any boxer who agrees to fight him. Palmer probably figures on getting a good loss and by taking a whipping from the black bruiser.

Ad Wolgast can quit the fighting game and get into the diamond business any time he wants to, and he ought to get away with it, too. The little fellow always packs about $10,000 worth of the gems around with him, and he is always looking to peddle them to his friends or to his enemies for that matter. Any time that the little Dutchman don't get by it is because he is not trying.

Sometimes it pays for one to lose one's job. Take Frank Chance for instance. Just look at the way he has boosted his price along since Charley Murphy tied the can on him. His ambition has at last been realized. He is destined to become the highest salaried baseball leader in all the world.

Ty Cobb has come to the front as a syndicate baseball writer. If he hits the typewriter as hard and as effectively as he hits the ball he is liable to drive a flock of novelists back to the frozen forests.

New York has gone crazy over Mexican Joe Rivers. Every time he walks around the block some sporting wack makes a note of it, Joe used to blow in and out of San Francisco and nobody ever paid any attention to him. They must be shy on talent back in the big village when they fall so hard for such an ordinary one.

EASY WHEN YOU KNOW HOW

The Art of Sliding Down a Rope in An Emergency

Sliding down a rope is not so simple as it seems. Few know how to do it properly. The easiest and safest method you can employ is that used by firemen and sailors. Standing upright, throw out your right leg and give it a turn around the rope. Next put the rope in the crook of your right elbow and clasp it tightly, not in your hand, but in your arm. In that way you can slide to safety without the slightest trouble. The rope does not touch any part of the body that is not protected by clothing, and your speed can be regulated by either straightening or cramping your leg. Once learned this method may prove in an emergency the means of saving your life or the lives of other persons.

ZBYSZO, POLISH WRESTLER, IS AFTER FRANK GOTCH

Zbyszko, the European wrestling champion, is once more in America. Zbyszko's correct name is Stanislaus Cyganiewicz, but very few know him as such. He came here from his native land, Poland, with the express intention of boxing Frank Gotch, the world's champion into another match for the title.

Zbyszko chased Gotch all over the country last year in an endeavor to force the champion into combat. His quest was fruitless and he took the steamer home after appearing in all the large cities. It was during the latter part of Zbyszko's chase that Gotch spread broadcast the news that he was going to retire and spend his days on his farm. That was the principal impetus that sent the foreigner home sooner than intended. A few weeks after Zbyszko left these shores Gotch came out from his "retirement" and wrestled a few unknowns. There was no possibility of the title changing hands, for Gotch sidestepped all dangerous rivals.

Upon his return to New York a few weeks ago Zbyszko scoffed at Gotch's retirement. "Mr. Gotch may be sincere in his intention to quit the mat," said Zbyszko "but I think everybody will agree with me that he will change his mind. He is a great wrestler—one of the best I've ever known."

Zbyszko is fully convinced that Gotch only announced his retirement to avoid being compelled to meet him. "I am the only logical rival to Gotch," "I am the only one" and it would be real sportsmanlike if he would defer his intention of quitting until we engaged in a championship struggle."

A small fortune awaits Gotch if he accepts the challenge of his rival. The Salt Lake City Airdrome has offered a purse of $30,000 for the contest. The Pittsburgh A. C. is anxious to stage the match and will give the same amount as the Salt Lake City folk. In addition a moving picture concern stands ready to pay $15,000 for the privilege of reproducing the match on screens. Zbyszko is willing to allow

AMERICAN CHOSEN AS AUTOMOBILE TEACHER
TO PRINCE OF WALES

LONDON, Dec. 29.—British automobile experts are greatly perturbed over the decision of the king to appoint Staunton, the American, as automobile instructor to his son, the Prince of Wales. They claim that while there might have been some excuse ten or twelve years ago for such a choice, when the motor industry was in its infancy in England, there can be no difficulty now in finding a Britisher who is capable of educating the prince in all the technicalities of automobile driving and construction.

The king is said to be influenced by his choice of an instructor by the circumstances that it was this same American who gave his father, the late King Edward, his first lesson in motor driving.

The prince is of a mechanical turn of mind and will no doubt be more interested in that side of his car than in any desire to become a highly accomplished driver. Before he went to Oxford he had his first lessons in Hyde park, in the early mornings before society folks commenced to assemble for their morning gallops. He is an enthusiastic cyclist, but the motorcycle he looks upon as an abomination. He has also a rooted antipathy to motor omnibuses of every kind and variety.

Gotch to do all the dictating as to the conditions of the match. If the champion prefers he can take $25,000, "win, lose or draw," or he can wrestle on the basis of 75 per cent to the winner and 25 per cent to the loser. "I will agree to any conditions he desires as long as I get the match," said Zbyszko.

Zbyszko met Gotch twice. In the first match he lost in a very peculiar manner in six seconds, and in the following match wrestled Gotch an hour, with neither obtaining a fall. In the last encounter it was the opinion of the spectators that Zbyszko had a shade on Gotch and might have won if the match had been to a finish instead of a handicap affair.

In the former clash Zbyszko offered his right hand as soon as the referee gave the word to start. Gotch made a move as if to shake hands, but in a flash dived for Zbyszko's legs, and before the foreigner knew what happened he was on his back. Zbyszko was surprised and offered no defense. It was a victory that carried no honor, as Gotch was berated on all sides for taking such an unfair advantage.

After the second match Gotch absolutely declined to meet Zbyszko under any conditions. He kept after the small fry.

The match in which Zbyszko showed to great advantage in New York was when Hackenschmitt agreed to throw him within an hour. Instead of "Hack" accomplishing his set task he was fortunate in being able to escape defeat. Zbyszko only grew active when he realized that "Hack" was unable to move him. He challenged "Hack" to a finish match, best two in three falls, but the latter turned a deaf ear to the requests.

Zbyszko is one of the most remarkably developed athletes in the world. He stands five feet ten inches and tips the beam at 245 pounds. He is thirty-one years of age. His measurements are: Neck, 22 inches; chest, 55; waist, 42; biceps, 23; forearm, 19; wrist, 13; thigh, 22; calf, 19.

PETER PAN SOLD
BY J. R. KEENE
FOR $100,000

LEXINGTON, Ky., Wednesday.—Peter Pan, James R. Keene's great stallion, has been sold for $100,000, it is reported that agents of George Gould purchased the horse. It is positively known that he will be shipped to France some time next week.

Only a month ago Rock Sand, one of the most noted stallions in the world, was shipped abroad on board the steamship Minnewaska, after he had been purchased by Cheri Halbronn of France for $150,000. A syndicate headed by Mr. Halbronn expects to make $1,000,000 with the horse in ten years.

The price paid for Rock Sand was not the highest ever paid for an American thoroughbred. Some years ago Ormonde sold for $150,000. Hermis was disposed of several years ago to a Frenchman, Mr. Edmond Blanc, but the price was not stated. It was believed to be about $100,000. The highest price paid for a thoroughbred was $136,875, by Mr. Blanc, when he bought Flying Fox, an English horse, some years ago.

MCCARTY NOW READY FOR FOOTLIGHT CAMPAIGN

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—Billy McCartney laid down the schedule for White Heavy Weight Champion Luther McCartney tonight. The pair will leave here Friday for Denver, arriving there Sunday. McCartney will make his first public appearance on the stage Monday night in the Auditorium in a four round exhibition bout with young Al Kaufman. From Denver the party goes on to Kansas City and from there east to the best offer.

McCartney arranged tonight to provide $100 a month for his wife and he began a bank account for his little girl, which he will add to gradually until the child is old enough to use it for an education.

VARIED SPORT
PROGRAM AT 'Y'

In order to give the many new members of the Y. M. C. A. an insight into the sport and amusement possibilities of the organization, next Friday night has been set for a general competition, in which all sports, billiard room and games hall will figure.

On the evening's program is a bowling match between the Myrtles and Healanis, a billiard game between W. O. Franklin and F. M. Friesell, a basketball match between picked teams, and several wrestling and gymnastic exhibitions. It will be on the principle of a three-ring circus, all the attractions starting at 8 p. m.

Franklin and Friesell will play a string of 150 points, at 18-2 balls line. This match should bring out some of the best billiards seen in Honolulu for some time.

JAKE STAHL NOT GOING TO RETIRE

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—Jake Stahl, manager of the Boston Americans, waxed eloquent when he tells of his excellent condition and his determination to continue to be the Napoleon of the horsehide world. While talking today he said:

"Where they got that story about me going to retire from active baseball on account of bum underpinning I do not know. Certainly, there is no truth in the story. I have about as much idea of retiring from baseball now as Willie Ritchie has of surrendering his title as champion. Of course, if I should be lucky enough to find a first baseman who would play my position better than myself there would not be any hesitation on my part in getting off the initial spook."

"It seems to be the general impression that my left leg, which was broken in hurting again and that it means that I will slow up next season. Fact is my left leg does not bother me at all. It is as sound as ever. It was my right leg that troubled me a bit last season, and it seems to be just as good as it ever was. I anticipate no trouble at all with it next season. My underpinning is sound as a dollar. I am sure, and I fully expect to have the best season of my career during the 1913 pennant race."

"I am entirely satisfied with my champions, and there will be few, if any, changes in the lineup for next season. The boys so far outclassed their rivals last season that I cannot figure them out of the race next season, no matter how much the other teams may strengthen. Of course, it probably will be a harder fight, as Washington, Philadelphia, Chicago and New York probably will be stronger than they were in 1912. But I do not believe they can strengthen enough to stop us from repeating our triumph of last season."

"Joe Wood will have the greatest season of his career. He is of an improving kind. He may not exceed his winning record of last season, but I look for him to be more effective and more finished than ever. I think Wood is just getting at his best now, and that he will have several more years of greatness on the diamond. It would be difficult to choose between Wood and Walter Johnson. I regard them as the greatest pitchers in the world and would not like to be forced to make a choice between them."

"Christy Mathewson is a great pitcher, too, but the difference between him and the other two is that they are coming fast and just now are getting their best form, while Mathewson is already on the sunset trail of his career. Mathewson retains his effectiveness because he is a veteran and uses his brains to supply any failing in his arm. Johnson and Wood will be stars in the game for many years to come."

I read it in the Star-Bulletin. It must be so.

BOWLING SEASON WILL OPEN
JAN. 21 WITH SEVEN STRONG
TEAMS IN 'Y' LEAGUE SERIES

With seven teams in the championship race, the Y. M. C. A. bowling tournament, to which the alley men have been looking forward for several months past, will be opened next Tuesday, January 21. Interest in the game is greater than ever before in Honolulu, and a banner season is expected.

Last night thirty-eight of the prominent rollers answered the call for an organization meeting held at Cooke Hall, at the Y. M. C. A., and after talking over a general plan for the coming campaign on the maple skids, officers were elected and committees appointed. C. H. Atherton was re-elected president of the league, and C. C. Clark and Jack Milton elected secretary and treasurer respectively. The executive committee is composed of C. R. White, W. O. Franklin and A. T. Wisdom, and the prize committee of James Winne, A. T. Longley and W. T. Hamer.

This year a much longer schedule will be played off than last year. The players are all anxious for a full and complete test of skill and consistency, the short schedule of last season putting a team which dropped several games in a row completely out of the running, without a chance of finishing at the top. This was discouraging, and this season a schedule of probably 7 games will go into effect, each team playing twelve games against every other team.

A handsome cup, similar to the one offered for the inter-island tournament, will be put up by the Brunswick-Balke Co., W. O. Franklin, the local representative, having come forward with the offer. An interesting feature of the cup race is that while the trophy will be for team success, the members of the winning team will play off an individual match for permanent possession of the trophy.

Every player on the winning team will get his name on the cup. Other prizes are to be offered for high score, high average, the greatest number of double centuries, etc., details being left to the prize committee. To cover the expense of these smaller trophies, an entrance fee of $1 will be charged every player in the tournament. However, the player will be entitled to a dollar's worth of bowling tickets, so the tax is really nothing but an advance payment to give the committee cash on hand.

It was decided last night to let the dummy average at 135, this being the figure allowed on the Coast. Each team is allowed to have seven players on its list, and at least four of these must be on hand for all match games. If less than four shows up, all three games of the match will go to the other team by default.

Every team member will have a Y. M. C. A. club monogram for his bowling shirt. There is so much interest in the game just at present that an automatic pin setter has been ordered for the third alley, and will be installed as soon as possible.

Following are the teams that will compete in the tournament, and the make-up of each:

HONOLULU.

J. Winne, H. V. Goar, I. Scharlin, J. Leslie Scott, George Dyson, C. A. White, Mills.

January 8, Chance signs contract to manage New York Highlanders for $25,000 a year.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Frank Leroy Chance, former manager of the Chicago Cubs, today signed a contract to lead the New York American league club three years at an annual salary reported to be $25,000.

"At any rate," said Frank Farrell, owner of the Highlanders, "you can safely say that Chance is the highest paid manager in baseball."

At the end of a two hour conference with the famous leader, the New York magnate came out of the offices of President Dan Johnson of the American League and said:

"Gentlemen, I wish to introduce to you the next manager of the New York Highlanders."

Farrell was radiant with smiles. Dan Johnson, too, was happy, as was Chance.

"Frank Chance for years has been a big man in baseball," President Johnson said. "He helped make the Chicago Cubs one of the greatest teams of all time. He is the man of the hour for the Highlanders. This club needed just such a leader to make its force of consequence in the American League. The club has the material, and it now has the manager."

With the coming of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, the fight bug at once commenced to buzz in this city, and before the transport had been in port six hours, many prospective matches were in the air.

Hollie Giles, the big welterweight who came yesterday with the Twenty-fifth Infantry, is considered one of the cleverest boxers in the army as well as one of the toughest fighters. He has been stationed at Fort Lawton, near Seattle, for some time, and all the welterweights in that part of the country thought twice before taking on the colored man. Giles fought Ed Hubbard, who claimed the welter title, and Romeo Hagen, the "fighting Baker" and the newspapers rather inclined to give Giles the victory, although the referee didn't see it that way. Giles has been fighting without a manager, and has been at a disadvantage. It is reported that several of the local rights in pugilism are talking matches with the colored scrapper, and it is likely that he will get a manager shortly and begin looking for a go with a welter or middleweight here.

PREPARING FOR BIG MOOSE ENTERTAINMENT

Preparations are going forward for the big smoker that the local lodge of Moose will give on Thursday night at Knights of Pythias hall to the Fifth cavalry members and also the incoming Moose with the various new military organizations now here. The committee on arrangements consists of Julius Aech, Sr., Clem Quinn, Chas. Barron and Dictator A. J. Wirt.

The committee wishes to announce that no special invitations could be issued on account of the short time in which it was possible to make arrangements, but that a general invitation is issued to all Moose.
